VOL. 2.

QUINCY, PLUMAS COUNTY, CALIFORNIA, SATURDAY, MARCH 19, 1864.

NO. 21.

MY MOTHER'S PICTURE.

Dear, voiceless image! thou hast come
O'er land and wave with me;
And life it seems first to part Ere I shall part with thee.
My mother! in this silent shade
Thy cherished form I trace—
There is thy well-remembered look,
The same smile on thy face.
Thy lips seem just about to speak
Such words as used to flow
Upon my ear in tenderness
In hours long ago.
I hear thy voice in humble prayer,
As thrilling still as when I knelt
At evening by thy side.
I feel my hand still clasped in thine,
As in my childish dreams,
We've wandered o'er the vine-clad hill,
Or by the olden stream.
I scarcely note the flakes that gleam
Amid thy raven hair,
Or see the furrowed lines of Time
That mark thy brow with care.
Ah, yes! The noisless tide of years
So swift has ebb'd away,
That all the golden, dreamy past
Seems bright as yesterday.
Weird memory lifts the misty veil
That veils each distant scene,
And as I gaze I scarcely note
The gulf that yawns between.
Dear mother! I am far from thee,
The waves between us moan,
Whist here, upon the watchful post,
I'm missing all alone.
The dark pine whistles overhead,
The river wide sweeps by,
While o'er the scene the morning moon
Hangs in the western sky.
I'm thinking, mother, of thy kiss
Yet warm upon my cheek,
When, parting on that summer eve,
I strove, but could not speak.
I see thy form within the door,
Where thou wast watching still,
Until I passed away from view
Behind the distant hill.
I know thou'rt praying for me now,
E'en at this present hour,
For o'er my heart there seems to steal
An unseen holy power.
And, whether on my lonely beat,
Or mid the battle's storm,
I think that thou art ever near
Like guardian angel's form.
God grant that we may meet again
Within this world once more,
When back at last we THREE shall come Unto the cottage door.
Then shall our dangers be forgot,
Nor shall we longer roam
Away, dear mother, from thy love
That calls thy children home.

TEACH THE WOMEN TO SAVE.—There's the secret! A saving woman at the head of a family, is the very best saving bank yet established—one receives daily and hourly, with no costly machinery to manage it. The idea of saving is a pleasant one; and if 'the women' would imbibe it at once, they would cultivate and adhere to it, would be laying the foundation of a competent security in a stormy time, and shelter to her own house, has a large field to save in. The best way to make her comprehend it, is to keep an account of all current expenses.
Probably not one wife in ten, has an idea how much are the expenditures of herself and family. Where from one thousand to two thousand dollars are expended annually, there is a chance to save something if the attempt is duly made. Let the housewife take the idea, set upon it, and she will save many dollars—perhaps hundreds—where before she thought it impossible. This is a duty, not a prompting of avarice, but a moral obligation, that rests upon the woman as well as the man.

THE DROUGHT AND GOLD CROPS.—Should
the weather continue until past the period of the spring rains, more serious disaster will befall the State than is probably imagined. The loss of cattle and failure of ordinary crops will not be the only damage which the State will sus-tain. There is another crop the probable loss of which is already beginning to be seriously considered. Unless we have a large quantity of additional rain, there is every probability that our hydraulic digging will have to be entirely suspended during the coming summer.
When it is considered that the yield of this class of mines reaches fully $25, 000,000, per annum, the depreciation which their almost total failure would produce in our monthly shipments of treasure may be approximately realized.
We have no desire to be classed among the chronic croakers, but we hold it to be good policy to look the future squarely in the face, and shape our policy in accordance with what it may reasonably promise.—Mining Press.

DISGUSTED.—A correspondent of the Union, writing from San Francisco,
March 5th, says of the earthquake there:
This morning while I was up in the 'third story' of a building, things began to bob around generally; three-legged steels fell down, gas burners swayed
"to and fro," and folks began to tumble down stairs like a lot of goats and sheep. I got under a skylight and stood still (first meditating to jump out into the street or not). I have had enough of earthquakes. I have always wanted to see one, but excuse me in the future.
It seemed as though the whole city was going to the devil. At any rate those who live in third stories are down on the earthquakes.

MORE EARTHQUAKE.—The San Francisco
Atlas of March 2d says:
Some of the residents in the southwestern portion of the city report two distinct, but light earthquake shocks at five minutes to twelve o'clock last night.
The shocks were separated by an interval of perhaps two seconds.

THE SPANGLED BANDANGEER!

This war that has waged on our beautiful land,
This war that was caused by a treasonous band,
Shall be a lesson of wisdom to many a mind,
By experience taught where they were quite blind.
This war so destructive to the peace of mankind,
This war which the brave fight and die in their line,
Is a necessary evil that none can deny,
To prove we're a nation where rebellion shall die.
Where rebellion shall be crushed into dust of the ground,
Where rebellion, where treason shall nowhere be found.
Where the North and the South, the East and the West,
Shall be united together their country to bless.
And then we will thrive in honor and right,
And then we will thrive in wisdom and might,
And the world may look on with an envious eye,
The star spangled banner that shall proudly fly.
That shall proudly fly o'er the land and sea,
That shall proudly fly o'er the brave and free,
While 'neath its banners, now tattered and torn,
Nations unborn shall find a home.
And I know by the light that dawns on my mind,
And I know from experience taught by mankind,
That the star spangled of the brave and true,
Shall represent for centuries the red white and blue.
So miss not the brave who have fought, died,
So miss not the brave, your country's pride,
For you know, for you feel, sweet maiden brave kin,
That they died for their country like true honest
men.

Most Nations have at sometime in their history, produced great poets.
England can boast of her Shakespeares, her Drydens, and her Pops. Scotland, of her Scotts, and her Burns. Ireland, of her Moore, Italy, of her Dante, Germany, of her Schiller, and America, of her Whittier, her Longfellow, and her Holmes; and we will add, the author of the above patriotic lines, sent us from Honey Lake Valley, for publication.
The "Bard," wishing his effusions to meet the public gaze, and we as public journalists, feel that we would be doing him an injustice, not to grant his request. And as we have no wish to prevent genius, such as his, from soaring to the highest niche of poetical fame, we give them to the public. All of the authors above named, have breathed their inspirations into immortal verse, and most of them derived their inspirations from their immediate and local surroundings, and such must have been the case with our author. With his natural poetic talent, he has no doubt derived additional vigor from the genial winds, and beautiful sands and sage brush of Honey Lake Valley. As criticism is the purifier of genius, we trust the author will pardon our comments, while perusing his immortality. But hear him:

"This war that has waged on our beautiful land,
This war that was caused by a treasonous band,
Shall be a lesson of wisdom to many a mind,
By experience taught where they were quite blind."
"This war so destructive to the peace of mankind,
This war which the brave fight and die in their lines,
Is an necessary evil that none can deny,
To prove we're a nation where rebellion shall die."

Here, our author launches into his subject in a glowing description of "War waged on our beautiful land,"

"By treason's band," etc.

Catches a gleam of wisdom, and completely knocks the scabs off of the "blind" by "experience," pays a beautiful tribute to the brave, and proves us a great nation, when rebellion is crushed by an
"necessary evil that none can deny."

"Where rebellion shall be crushed into dust of the ground,
Where rebellion, where treason shall nowhere be
found,
Where the North and the South, the East and the West,
Shall be united together their country to bless."

Here, our author gives rebellion an vigorous poke "into the ground," and leaves it "nowhere to be found," and by a judicious mingling of the various sections, "blesses" some particular spot, we are not sure where, but conclude he intended somewhere.
"And then we will thrive in honor and right,
And then we will thrive in wisdom and might,
And the world may look on with an envious eye,
The star spangled banner that shall proudly fly."

After the blessing, we are to thrive
"In honor and right," "Wisdom and might,"
and have the world looking on "with an envious eye," and receive an introduction to the

"Star spangled banner that shall proudly fly."
"And I know by the light that dawns on my mind,
And I know from experience taught by mankind,
That the star spangled of the brave and true,
Shall represent for centuries the red white and blue."

Here, we have "light dawning upon the mind" and "experience taught by mankind" in abundance to show us that the "star spangled of the brave and true," will be somewhat variegated.
"So miss not the brave who have fought, died,
So miss not the brave your country's pride,
For you know, for you feel, sweet maiden, brave kin,
That they died for their country like true honest
men."

which will, no doubt, be some consolation to their friends. Thus, our author clothes in immortal verse, his inspirations, which were, no doubt, improved by a knowledge, that the sweet maiden's cheeks would glow with pride, at the fame acquired by ink and type. It will undoubtedly take its place with the permanent literature of our country, scarcely excelled by anything in our language, except it be

"Hey diddle diddle
The cat's in the fiddle,
The old cow jumped over the moon."

A REMARKABLE VISION.—A solicitor, resident in the Isle of Wight, had business at Southampton. He stayed at one of those hotels for which the town of mail steamers is famous, and after dinner he was looking over his law papers while he sipped his port. He was aroused from his foibles and red tape by the opening of a door; his wife (whom he had left at home in the Isle of Wight) entered, gazed at him steadily, and passed out through the opposite door.
He naturally thought that it was a hallucination, and resumed his reading, with a wondering smile at his own weakness. But within a quarter of an hour, the very same thing occurred again; and there was on the countenance of the specter an imploring look which terrified him. He at once resolved to return home; with some difficulty got a boatman to take him across;
and when he reached his house, he was struck by the ghastly and alarmed look of the maid-servant who opened the door. This woman was so frightened by his unexpected return, that she spontaneously confessed her intention to murder her mistress; and her confession was confirmed by the fact that she had concealed a carving knife under her pillow. This is a very perplexing case for those who think spectral phenomena can be philosophically explained. Here you have the phantom of a living person projected, entirely without that person's consciousness. Let it be assumed that a person in extreme peril can, by intense volition act on the nervous system of the universe, so as to influence his dearest friend; but here the person whose likeness appeared was entirely devoid of apprehension, while the servant, who alone knew what was likely to happen, would naturally exert no volition towards revealing it.

A GOOD DAY'S WORK.—A German editor in Pennsylvania gives the following account of what he had accomplished in one day: The day before the last election, being out of wood and out of money to buy it, I borrowed my neighbor's team, drove five miles to the timber, pulled off my coat, chopped a cord of hickory, took it home and sawed it up into stove-wood; then went to the mill, which is four miles distant, got my flour; returning home, I stepped at the brewery, drank a gallon of lager and went home took my supper, went to my office, wrote a two column editorial, went down to get something to drink, got into a quarrel with a Copperhead, knocked him down, made him hurrah for Curtin;
then went home, went to bed fought a nightmare two hours, came off victorious, took a spiritual flight to Deutschland, drank some Rhein wein, came back, and got home in time to vote the whole Union ticket.

THERE has been a horror discovered in a Cornwall village—a poor lunatic confined by his brother for twenty years in a room under circumstances of appalling barbarity. The villagers, accustomed to his heartrending shrieks and howl, never it is feared, "it was none of their business." Only a stranger discovered and delivered the miserable being, more resembling a baboon than a man, drawn and cramped from long ex-posure and suffering, out of all form of humanity, stark naked, and only two old rotten bags for a coverlet, the description of the room in which he was confined being loathsome beyond measure.—
Correspondence Tribune.

PERPETUAL MOTION.—A Mr. Caruther, a mechanic in Kingston, Canada, professes to have discovered the principal of perpetual motion. A correspondent of the British American states that it is proved by one of the simplest things in the world in the shape of machinery.
"The model," he says, "is constructed of eight levers, and each of these levers has a weight attached to it. Seven of these weights are descending while one is ascending; it stands to reason that if we had a weight to lift one hundred pounds, with a lever six feet long, and if you place the fulcrum two feet from the end of the lever, we have four feet of the leverage, and a weight of fifty pounds will balance the lever. Mr. Caruthers' invention is one on this principle.
We have seven of these weights lifting one of the same size. The correspondent promises that the wonder will shortly be presented to the world.

ARTHEMUS Ward appears to be in a bad streak. In addition to being refused by the gentle Sallie Goodrich, and being compelled to apologize to the Mormons for his funny sketch of them, (he could not get the use of their theatre without so doing,) while on his way from Salt Lake City to the East on the night of February 17th, when near Fort Bridger, he got buried under four feet of snow
by the upsetting of the sleigh.

UNPARALLELED MEANNESS.

We invite the attention of the liberal-minded journalists to the following facts:
Failing to receive the Bulletin in exchange, we called at the office, and were informed by the attendant that "the publishers of the Bulletin had concluded that if the Daily Journal wanted a copy it would have to subscribe for it." We of course subscribed at once.

It is hard to say whether the publishers of the Bulletin were actuated by a wretched parsimony or petty spite; in either case they will appear sufficiently contentable. That journal and its Sancho Panza—the Alta—pursue the same parsimonious course toward the interior papers, and in consequence are detested by liberal minded editors.
(True as far as we are concerned. Ed.)
The Daily Journal, on the contrary, exchanges with every respectable paper on the coast, and is therefore, more copied from in one week than both of the others are in a month. Perhaps that's what's the matter.

Except with the Shylocks and Shoddys
the Bulletin and Alta are rapidly becoming detestable. They are the organs of grasping Capitalism—nay, they are its very slaves. Neither of them employ a single person of notable ability; but like cropped and branded slaves, they plod along at the discretion of Mr. Solomon Gunnysbags, with an instinct or an ambition above the making of money.

We shall, therefore, pay our regular three bits a week for the Bulletin, cheerfully as we should pay the stipulated hire of a donkey. We need the paper; and having paid for it as an article of merchandise, we are at liberty to use its contents as we please. The privilege of despising men so unspokeably mean, is worth ten times the money;
and utter independence of such groveling mercenaries or spiteful cynics, is worth still more. We hope the substance of the above facts will receive the attention of all liberal and manly journalists with whom, we are glad to say, our paper seems to be in excellent favor.—S. F. Journal.

THE REBEL.—The rebels are in a fix.
Their case seems to stand thus:

1. If they increase their army they cannot feed it.
2. Unless they increase their army they are whipped.
3. Unless the press speaks out their liberties are gone.
4. If the press speaks out their Government will be gone.
5. Unless they draft the whole population they must surrender.
6. If they draft the whole population they must starve.
7. Unless they recover East Tennessee they can get no salt-peter.
8. If they undertake to recover East Tennessee they will get more salt-peter than they want.
9. Unless they free the negroes they've nothing left to fight for.
10. If they free the negroes they've nothing left to fight for.
11. Ever since the rebellion began negroes have been falling.
12. Nevertheless, their greatest fear now is, lest the negroes should rise.
13. Unless Jeff. Davis repudiates his present debts, he can't borrow from anybody.
14. If he repudiates nobody will lend to him.
15. If he impresses food he turns the land into a desert.
16. Unless he impresses food he turns his men into deserters.
17. They can't succeed in the war until they have got the means of building railroads.
18. They can't get the means to build railroads.
19. If they fight they lose the day.
20. Unless they fight they lose every day.

That is what was meant two years ago, when we talked about getting them into the folds of the anaconda. Having rioted in the enjoyment of several vices for a long time, we will see how they feel in a vice.
A STORY FROM IRELAND.—An arrolite lately appeared at Cork, and struck in a field in which a valuable mare was feeding. The animal was next morning missed, and sought for, when a large circular hole or pit was discovered in the field, and at the bottom of this hole the mare was found standing erect, stiff and dead. The belief entertained by those who have seen the spot, is that the arrolite struck the earth from beneath the mare, forming the hole, and burying it self deep in the ground, while the mare fell from the receding earth and was struck dead by fright.

THERE is no use of trying to change the mind of a man who has determined to go to Boise. Thinks the best way is to let all go unquestioned who have the least desire to do so. Like some other cases, the only cure is to kill. The old lady advised her daughter against the wicked ways of the world, telling her,
"I have seen the folly of it." "All right," said the young one, "I want to see it too." Let them see the folly of it as soon as possible.

The enrollment list for the northern district of the State has been completed and contains 24,331 names, of which probably 10,000 are liable to draft. By the way, the draft is to take place on the 10th—so get ready.—See Bee
Who felt the draft, up this way.

GENERAL NEWS ITEMS.

EX-GOVERNOR Stanford has been admitted to practice in the Supreme Court.

HOW SECRETARY STANTON SETTLED A

I give it as I find it about:

"Indeed?"

"If something is not done to relieve us, it is hard to foresee the consequences."

"Let them pay the commutation."

"Impossible! the men don't stand such a tax."

"They have a rich company at their back, and that's more than other people have."

"They ought to be exempted, because they are necessary to the working of the road for the Government."

"That can't be."

"Then I will stop the road."

"If you do, I will take it up and carry it on!"

The discussion is said to have been dropped at this point, and the very wor-

SATURDAY, MARCH 19, 1864.

THE SUCCESSION.

The recent action of the Ohio Legislature, in endorsing Lincoln and favoring his re-election, has had the effect of calling from Mr. Chase a letter withdrawing his name from the canvass. This leaves the Union field clear for Lincoln, and when the National Convention shall assemble at Baltimore on the 7th of June, it will only be required to select a candidate for Vice President, as the people have in advance settled who shall be their nominee for President.

We rejoice at this action of Secretary Chase, for this was the only name that could rally any decent opposition to Lincoln in our ranks. The more ultra-radical of the party, not satisfied with the progress of events, thinking Lincoln too tardy, were making head against him in the hope of hastening unduly the abolition of Slavery. The public mind, however, is satisfied with the action of Lincoln and certainly the most ultra old fashioned abolitionist ought to be satisfied with the certainty of the utter speedy and complete extinction of that institution. Rational men rejoice too, that the madness of the slaveholding interest has worked the ruin of it and no extra or unconstitutional means have been used to extinguish it by the Government.

While it relied on the constitutional guarantees, it was secure. While it used all the power of the government to protect it, it was safe, but when it came in conflict with the immutable laws of nature, it fell. It came in direct antagonism with the natural increase of free population. It sought to confine the routes of internal travel, so that free labor should pursue the cold roads of the North, and kept for itself the genial climate of the South. So long as it confined itself to peaceful measures it was held sacred, but when it sought to force its measures by the sword, it failed. War has no conscience; war knows no sympathy. If the dagger of the assassin be raised, it must be wrested from him; Slavery is the dagger of the nation. It is aimed at the very heart of the nation. It must be taken from them to prevent any future assassination.

It was evident to thinking minds, that the elements of inconsiderate zeal were looking to some one who would lead them. Chase, from his genius, life and position, was the strongest man they could center on, but his withdrawal will force them to reconsider their movement.

The great mass of loyal citizens look upon Lincoln as the instrument of providence, working out the grand problem of our national destiny. They are satisfied with his action, may, they enthusiastically endorse his measures. They believe him honest. They believe him capable of carrying the ship of State safely through the present storm. They are not willing to take any one else on chance; they have tried him and he has filled the full measure of their expectations. His honesty has touched the heart, and during the storm they have no desire to change captains.

Let Lincoln remain President. Chase is now in his proper position. If in the future it should be necessary, he can be elected President, for it will be many generations ere any one who opposed this war can hope for preferment. The foundation of the Union party as it is now being laid, will prove in its day the most powerful political organization our country has ever seen, for it is the party of the people—of patriotism, of nationality, and it will prove a blessing to our nation from the very broadness of its principles.

We look upon the canvass as being now fairly opened. It is Lincoln and Union against the odds and ends of every description, who oppose the war or who prefer slavery to freedom.

Still, if Chase were to be nominated, or Ben Butler, or Banks, it would in our judgement be the same principle, with only a change of leaders.

WINE.—We infer from the Nevada Gazette that wine flowed rather profusely at Nevada, on the new officers taking posse. The same programme was had in Plumas, but then wine is generally free when Charley Kent is around.

NEVADA GAZETTE.—This is the name of the paper edited by Judge Stiger, of the San Juan Press. It is the Press with another name. In his salutatory the Judge declares that the Gazette will be "Union—Union to the backbone, and every inch Union." It is to be published daily, May 1st future be as useful for the cause, as the past has been glorious for the Press.

PLUMAS.—We find in the report of the proceedings of the Legislature, the following in regard to this county.

Senate Bill, No. 282.—An Act to amend an Act (of 1863) to authorize J. C. Bidwell and others to construct a wagon road in the counties of Butte and Plumas—was read three times by unanimous consent and passed.

Assembly Bill No. 299.—An Act to amend an Act passed May 2, 1862, to grant the right to construct a turnpike road from the town of La Porte, Sierra county, through or near the Beckworth Pass, to the Eastern boundary line of the State—was considered engrossed and passed.

Committee on Claims reported back among other bills, adversely to bills for payment of Dr. Sharkey and Wm. Bradford.

Mr. McMurray, from the Committee on Counties and County Boundaries, reported back Assembly Bill No. 308.—An Act to create the county of Lassen define its boundaries and provide for its organization—without recommendation.

That last is rather heavy on the new county—still, it has a show.

Bradford's Relief Bill is a just one, and ought by right to be passed.

STATE CONVENTION.—Before our next issue the State Convention will have met and elected delegates to the National Convention. Every county that has yet met have instructed their delegates to go for Lincoln first, and there can be no doubt that Honest Abe stands to day in the race like Eclipse—the rest nowhere. We know Lincoln to be honest; he has proven himself competent, and there is no time to swap horses now.

UNION COUNTY CONVENTION.

The Convention met at Quincy, March 12th, 1864, pursuant to the call of the County Central Committee.

On motion, J. R. Buckbee was appointed Chairman, A. P. Moore, Secy. Messrs. Ward, Cummings, and Fowler were appointed a Committee on Credentials.

Messrs. Seabury, Clark and Baker, were appointed as a Committee on permanent organization, and Order of Business. Messrs. Spencer, Gifford and Snyder, were appointed a Committee on Resolutions.

The Convention then adjourned until 2 o'clock P. M.

The Convention met pursuant to adjournment. J. R. Buckbee was elected permanent Chairman, and A. P. Moore Secy. The report of Committee on Order of Business received. The Committee on Resolutions reported the following, which were unanimously adopted.

Resolved, That the struggle between patriotism and treason still continues, and the necessity still exists for a Union of Union men to preserve the Nation against the results of its enemies. Therefore, be it by the People of Plumas County, Resolved, That allegiance to our country is superior to any obligation that we may owe to any political organization.

Resolved, That our political faith is summed up in the one word "Union," and that to that end we endorse the Campbell Resolution as they passed the Legislature of the State of California at its present session, (the Resolutions referred to are published in another column.—Ed.)

Resolved, That first choice for the next Presidency is Abraham Lincoln. Tried in fire, he has come out pure gold, and that our delegates to State Convention, be requested to use their best endeavors to secure a delegation to the National Convention of Jan. 7th who will favor his nomination.

The following gentlemen were then elected as Delegates to the Union State Convention. J. R. Buckbee, J. S. Root, W. N. DeFay, J. S. Ward, A. A. Cummings, J. W. Snyder, W. H. Nallich, S. J. Clark.

The following gentlemen were elected to serve as the Central County Committee for the ensuing year: J. R. Lockwood, S. J. Clark, J. R. Buckbee, E. V. Spencer, R. Thomson, B. F. Baker, W. N. DeFay.

On motion, the Convention then adjourned sine die.

SOLDIER'S LETTER.—We have had a letter forwarded to us from one of the soldiers in Grant's army, who lived for some time at Marion Flat in this county which will be published next week.

ARRIVALS from the Dalles bring a copy of the Mountaineer Extra, containing particulars of the execution of the McRuder murderers. The execution took place on the morning of the 5th. Howard, Romain and Lowery walked firmly up the steps to the scaffold. After the prayer, Howard called upon God to witness his innocence.

Romain seemed deeply affected, and said: "I am innocent of this murder."

Lowery then stepped forward to the reporter and said, "I am murdered." These two men, pointing to Howard and Romain as my murderers. Page has told a great story. I could contradict the story, but it would implicate seven persons, one of whom is dearer to me than life."

Howard then remarked to Lowery, "you ought to have said this before." Lowery answered, "no, I could not, as it would have implicated one dearer to me than life." Then turning to Romain he said, "forgive me, Jimmy."

After the ropes had been adjusted, Lowery said: Good bye to all. All ready. Launch your boat. It is nothing but a mud-scow, anyhow.

At 28 minutes past 12 o'clock the drop fell, and the three men were sent to that bourne whence no traveler returns.

TAKES.—Siskiyou pays three dollars on the hundred. Tehama $2.53 on the hundred. Placer county pays $3.40 on a hundred. Santa Cruz pays $2.60.

INTERNAL REVENUE.—J. M. Avery, U. S. Assessor of the Fourth District, has furnished the Sacramento Union with an abstract of the taxes assessed in the District from Sept 1st, 1862, to Jan. 1st 1864. The total amount received from Butte county in that period was $23,321.58, from licenses, and $2,134.01 schedule amount; and from the fourteen counties composing the District the grand total received was $403,489.20.

SACRAMENTO CORRESPONDENCE.

SACRAMENTO, March 15th, 1864.

DEAR UNION.—The sweet singer of Israel says that "dust thou art, and unto dust shalt thou return," and another of the inspired authors has it that "in the midst of life we are in death." Had he lived in the 19th century, and at Sacramento city, he would have changed the language a little, and had it read, "in the midst of life we are in dust." Only think of it, in March, the blustering month of the year, when flannel and wrappings become a necessity for comfort, to be without fire in the stove, to wear linen outside and inside, (of the outside) and instead of an atmosphere humid with the moisture of heaven, to have it so dry that it almost cracks, and the dust of the plains and streets of the city, that settles in grey clouds on everything, that enters into everything; that dusts the bonnets of the ladies and the boots of the male bipeds; that enters the nostrils, and fastens to every spot where a drop of moisture is. Dust in clouds, and of such fine impalpable particles, that it creeps through keyholes, and makes the universal Sacramento world swear dustily,—you bet!

Starr King is dead. A thrill of sorrow has passed through the public heart at this last victory of death over intellect. He needs no eulogy. His life was his best praise. As an orator he stood unrivaled on this coast; as a lecturer he was unrivaled; as a preacher he was first; as a man, his enemies (if he had any as a man), gave him credit for being honest; as a patriot his eloquence stirred California from her pursuit of wealth, to stand up for Uncle Sam, and to fill the coffers of the Sanitary Commission. He was a leader in every sense of the word. Well may the bunting be draped in black, and the drum be muffled. Well may the general sorrow be whispered,—a brain has ceased to think that always thought truly,—a life has ceased to exist that was spent in earnest purpose. He has worn out, not rusted, and while the fire opened brightly and beautifully before him, he has sank to sleep. Brother Clark, the MAX, Baker, the eloquent King the orator, a triumvirate of worth and intellect that have shed lustre on the annals of California history. The people know their loss in Starr King's death and mourn for it.

The Legislature have passed resolutions expressive of the sense of his loss, and well spoken words of condolence to his family have passed in, but who can fill his place. He may have imitators who may be clever, but who can compass the genius of the dead. Alas, not one.

Brad proposes that a public subscription be taken to erect a monument to his memory. California owes him that much. Let her pay the debt.

In the Legislature, the solons have got to the work of the session: The Committee on claims have reported adversely to the payment of $5,000 to Bradford for being injured in the Honey Lake war. Brad is sorry for that, as it was as just a claim as ever was presented to the Legislature; still, it may come up in another shape, but the chances are now largely against it.

The new County bill (Lassen Co.) has been referred to the "Committee on Counties and County Boundaries," in the Senate, and has come out of that unharmed. There is no open opposition to it, but there appears to be an undercurrent working against it from Honey Lake itself, which may prejudice its passage through the Senate. Clark of the Assembly got through the lower house in masterly style, and feels good over it. Smith is working for it, and has showed me letters received from some of the principal men in Plumas asking him to go for it. Still, it may be amended so as to have the gauntlet of the Assembly to run again, in which case it may be lost for want of time to get it through.

Next week the Union State Convention meets. Things look a little mixed as to who will be delegates to the National Convention. Brad thinks however, that he can put his finger on three who can go if they want to, "Thompson Campbell, J. M. Avery and J. H. Jewett. There are other names which will go better to the Convention, but like Pat McFinnigan will go in and then go out again. Uncle Abe will carry the Convention without a dissenting voice.—Chase has withdrawn and there is not time for the overzealous to make a new head on any other man between now and June 7th, for Abram is our man, defeat him now who can; we'll shout his name and will proclaim that Abram is our man.

The McClellanites, or Seymourites, or Coffrothites, or Copperheads or Secessionists, are grasping like dying men for some hook to fasten to, but the elements are against them. Their monitor is nothing but an old slab; they are pirates on the political ocean, and can only hope to make a raise by robbery and piracy. If they go for the war, men who honestly favor the war will say, we know that Abraham is earnestly in favor of the war, and we will go for him. If they go for peace they can only get the outright Secession vote of the Wood, Cox, and Vallandigham stripe, and if they go both ways, they will only catch the vote of fools, who are nothing if not Democrats.

The Ball is open; the musicians are tuning their instruments. Soon the word will come, then waltz in, and Brad thinks that "John Brown's soul" will prove more seductive in its notes than the anthem of "Dixie's Land."

He has spoken.

BRAD.

LEVI HITE, formerly Mayor of the city and Deputy Grand Master of the California Grand Lodge of the Order of Odd Fellows, died at Carson City, N. T. March 9th. He was a resident of Gold Hill, N. T. and a late member of the Nevada Territorial Legislature.

Capt. Kim's opposition steamer, to run between Sacramento and San Francisco, is expected to be completed in about four weeks.

TH CAMPBELL RESOLUTIONS.

Resolved by the Assembly, the Senate concurring:

1. That the people of the State of California are uncompromisingly loyal, and that they repudiate the political heresy of State supremacy when brought in conflict with Federal authority, holding that each has its proper sphere, but that in all National affairs the Constitution, and the laws of the United States made in pursuance thereof, are the supreme law of the land; and which no State, either by legislation, judicial decision, or otherwise, can disobey, controvert, or annul; and we do hereby declare that the fundamental principle of our Government, for the maintenance of which the people of this State are prepared to die rather than surrender.

2. That the rebellion is a war of the Southern slave-owning aristocracy against the democracy of the Nation, and is a blow struck against all free Government.

3. That we endorse all the measures of the Administration adopted for the purpose of subduing the present most wicked rebellion; and, First—We endorse the abolition of slavery in the District of Columbia.

Second—We endorse the Act making free from slavery all territory belonging to the United States.

Third—We endorse the Confiscation Act; Fourth—We endorse the Conspiracy Act; Fifth—We endorse the suspension of the writ of habeas corpus.

Sixth—We endorse the enlistment of negro soldiers to fight in our National armies.

Seventh—We endorse the noble stand taken by President Lincoln, that all who wear the uniform of the Union shall receive the same protection; Eighth—We endorse the financial policy of the Government, and the Legal Tender Law, as the great administrative measures for successfully carrying on the war against the rebellion, and which we pledge ourselves to defend and uphold.

Ninth—We endorse the policy of establishing Military Governments in the rebellious States, as necessary to enable the President to see that the laws therein are faithfully executed.

Tenth—We endorse the Act admitting Western Virginia into the Union.

11. That we endorse the Proclamation by the President of the United States, of January first, sixteen hundred and sixty-three, declaring the slaves in all the territory which it covers forever free; and we hold that its operation is not contingent upon the occupation of any territory by the National army, but that it is self-acting, and gives to each slave a full and complete legal title to freedom, and we will never consent that they shall, for any purpose or for any end, be returned to the former condition of bondage; but we pledge ourselves to stand by and support President Lincoln in his noble determination to maintain the pledged faith of the Nation inviolate, as expressed in his last message, when he says:

"I shall not attempt to retract or modify the Emancipation Proclamation, nor shall I return to slavery any person who is free by the terms of the Proclamation, or by any Act of Congress."

12. That we endorse the plan of reconstruction as set forth in the Proclamation of the President, and appended to his last message:

First—Because it establishes in the rebellious States now under the National flag, or that may come under it, a rallying point for the organization of all loyal men;

Second—Because it guards and protects the emancipated slave against the possibility of re-enslavement;

Third—Because it will enable the United States to practically guarantee to every State to which it applies a republican form of government, and to protect each of them against invasion;

Fourth—Because it points out a mode by which the deluded masses of the rebellious States may return to their allegiance, with the restoration of all their rights, while it reserves the right to punish the guilty instigators and leaders of the rebellion for the great crime they have committed.

Fifth—Because it provides for the support and protection of the freed men of the rebellious territory as a condition precedent for pardon and the restoration of forfeited rights;

Sixth—Because it presents a mode by which the National authority over every loyal State government may be established, and the State thus restored to its place in the Union; and,

Seventh—Because it precludes the possibility of any peace which shall acknowledge the existence or establishment of slavery in any part of the rebellious Territories covered by the Emancipation Proclamation.

8. That the proposition of the Copperhead members of Congress, to send Commissioners to Richmond to sue for peace from armed traitors, should carry their names to eternal infamy, and who would treat with armed treason is himself a traitor, and deserves a traitor's punishment; California will accept no peace which is not based upon an unconditional surrender.

9. That we endorse the construction of the Constitution Law which has for its object the unconditional forfeiture of the property of the rebels; and our Senators are hereby instructed and our Representatives in Congress requested to urge its adoption.

10. That we tender our gallant Army and Navy officers and men, the heartfelt thanks of the loyal people of the State of California for their glorious achievements, for the renown which they have given to the American name; and we guarantee to them that while they are fighting our battles, traitors at home shall not be permitted to deprive them of the least of their civil rights.

11. That the President's proclamation of pardon, as appended to his message, is limited to the rebels of the rebellious States, as therein specified, and has no application either to prisoners of war, or to persons who have been tried, convicted and sentenced, by the Courts of the country.

12. That the barbarous treatment of Union prisoners by the rebels is without a parallel in the annals of civilization, and should bring down upon them the execrations of the whole civilized world, and we hail with delight the recent actions of the Government in placing the whole phalanx of rebel prisoners under the jurisdiction of General Butler, the great rebel-killer, and we earnestly invoke such a system of retaliation as will force the barbarism of slavery to yield to the humane rules of civilized warfare.

13. That in Abraham Lincoln, President of the United States, we recognize purity of life, singleness of purpose, the far-seeing conscientiousness, the uncompromising, unflinching patriot, the aim of whose life is the preservation of the Union, and the restoration of peace upon the immutable and eternal foundations of freedom, and freedom only; that to his wisdom, sleepless watchfulness, unselfish patriotism, prompt action and determined will to pursue the right and abandon the wrong, the people of these United States are indebted for the proud position which they this day occupy on the great map of nations; that when we consider the fiery ordeal through which this man of the people has passed, unscathed and unshaken, it is not strange that public confidence in him should remain unshaken; and that while we revere and honor every noble patriot who has performed so well, several parts in this great drama, the people still look to Abraham Lincoln as the instrument, selected by Providence to lead their country in safety through all its perils, and restore it again to a peace in which no element of discord shall be found, and that we do most heartily favor his re-election.

14. Resolved, That his Excellency, the Governor be requested to transmit copies of these resolutions to the President of the United States, and to each of our Senators and Representatives in Congress.

DIED IN LIBBY PRISON.—The correspondent of the Alta, writing from Vienna, Va., says that Roswell R. Smith, of Butte, Sierra county, died December 14th, from sheer starvation and want in the Libby Prison.

A movement is on foot for the erection of a monument to T. Starr King.

The fresh water canal on the Isthmus of Suez is finished.

LETTER FROM MR. J. S. ROOT.

QUINCY, March 16th, 1864.

To Messrs. Harvey, Peel, Purdon and Breed. I see by the last QUINCY UNION, two letters from Mr. E. Dunham of Oroville, one purporting to be an exact copy of a letter to John S. Root, dated Feb. 19th 1864, in which he says:

I understand that you have collected money from Harvey, Peel, Purdon and Breed, you will find by referring to enclosed list that those parties had previously paid those taxes, while I was Deputy Collector and my receipts were drawn (mark) in favor of the parties who paid the money.

Again he says: I would most respectfully advise you to pay the money back to Peel, Harvey, Purdon and Breed, as you will find by referring to the written list that I collected the money and lawfully while I was collector of Plumas Co.

Now gentlemen, in answer to the above, I will give you a true statement of the fact, as the list and Mr. Dunham's letter of Oct. 30th will and does show. In his letter of that date (accompanied by the lists of collections,) he closes by saying:

You will find the names of persons that are paid marked on the list, but yours were not marked paid, as the list will show. I took the list and Mr. Dunham's letter as my guide, and acted in good faith. Had Mr. Dunham marked the list paid or given the parties the proper receipts, there would have been no trouble. There is no law authorizing me to acknowledge any other receipt. Mr. Dunham need not blame me for his own errors, before he corrects those of others. He says he collected the money lawfully. I always think when a Collector collects money, he should give the proper receipt. Did Mr. Dunham do this? No, he says in his letter of Feb. 19th, my receipts were drawn. Now, neither of the parties mentioned had Mr. Dunham's receipts. If Mr. Dunham makes out receipts, and makes a deposit of them where the parties cannot get them, who is to be blamed. (Root of course.)

Now Mr. Editor I did not intend to trouble you again and certainly should not had it not been for Mr. Dunham's two letters in your last weeks paper. If Mr. Dunham wants his letters advertised he must do it himself, and not think that I will do it, I only desire to be placed right on the record. With this I leave it. Yours respectfully,

JOHN S. ROOT.

LOCAL ITEMS.

POLL TAX.—For 1864, is the same as it was in 1863, viz: $2, State, and $2, Military.

LICENSES.—Merchants, and others, whose licenses have expired, will do well to have them renewed, soon.

LAGER BEER.—Schlatter has a supply of this invigorating beverage on hand, subject to a "draft" at all times.

THANKS.—To Messrs. Myers & Ritchie, of Nelson Point, for favors rendered the Union Office.

ASSASSIN'S NOTICE.—Parties interested, will find a Notice from the Federal Assessor in another column.

WE are indebted to Gen. H. P. Russell, of Carson City, for late copies of the Virginia City Union.

AT WORK.—The Round Valley Quartz Co., has several men employed in the ledge, taking out quartz.

EXPRESS AND MAIL.—Arrives at Quincy every Tuesday and Friday afternoon, and leaves on Monday and Thursday of each week.

PRACHING.—The Rev. Mr. Hadley will preach in the Court House to-morrow (Sunday) afternoon at 2 o'clock, P. M. Come ye sinners, &c.

NOTARIES.—The following are the Notaries Public for Plumas County: J. R. Buckbee, A. F. Blood, J. L. L. Peel and J. S. Ward.

TRAINING.—Loaded teams are continually passing over the Humboldt Valley and Oroville road, there being no snow on that route at present.

SUCCESS.—From all accounts, the performance given by the Indian Valley Dramatic Club, on Saturday night last, was a decided success. Will the Company pay this town a visit?

FAST TIME.—Freight from Marysville has arrived in this place on the fourth day after being shipped from Marysville. The Oroville R. R., will be a great benefit to all of our citizens.

MARSHAL OF VIRGINIA CITY.—C. W. Cooke, better known to most of our readers as Cook Johnson, has recently been elected City Marshal of Virginia City, beating his opponent handsomely.

REMOVED.—Mr. J. R. Clark, Fed. Collector for the 4th Collection District, has been removed; in consequence of which all of his duties will be performed by Mr. J. R. Buckbee, A. F. Blood, J. L. L. Peel and J. S. Ward.

THE PROPHET.—Some of "our oldest inhabitants say, in regard to the weather, "That if we don't get a storm during the next two weeks, they can't tell when we will get any rain!" A wise prophecy, indeed. P. S. The rain has arrived.

STILL COMING.—Probably not less than four hundred long-tailed Celestials have arrived in this country during the past two weeks. The Tax Collector and Deputies are gathering in the foreign Miner's tax pretty lively just now.

ELIZABETHTOWN.—The "Engineers" are vigorously at work in their claims, and will have their bed rock tunnel completed in a few days. Then look out for "crushers," and stand from under.

SHOWERS.—We have had several showers of rain during the past three days, and the spears of grass have straightened up their heads, and put on a pleasing "grin," by way of thanks. Our farmers and miners are doing the same thing, only "more so."

SPORT.—It may be sport for the men, but it is certainly rather uncomfortable for the dogs, if we can judge by their actions, upon having a tin bucket tied to their "narratives," and then "sent off" on a gallop, as has been done of late in our town.

DEPUTIES.—Sheriff Pierce has appointed the following Deputies: Under Sheriff, L. C. Charles; Deputy Sheriffs, R. D. Bellows, H. G. Richmond; Deputy Tax Collectors, John McElroy, Cap. Kohler and P. R. Johnson. Wm. H. Stearns has been appointed Deputy County Clerk.

DEY DRINKING.—At Red Rock and Dutch Hill, but little work will be done in the mines this season, owing to the scarcity of water. Most of the claims have been "laid over" for another year, and the "boys" have concluded to work the river and bars of the North Fork.

EAST BRANCH.—At the Mouth of Mill Creek, a short distance above Rich Bar, some good prospects have recently been found, and the whole flat has been staked off and claimed for mining purposes. Several companies are at work on the creek above the mill. Mill Creek is hardly prospected as yet, and we doubt not, but that some rich claims will be opened during the summer.

RICH.—New and extensive surface diggings have been found near Little Grass Valley, in this county. A large number of claims have been staked off, and companies formed for the purpose of working them. From all accounts, the mines are as rich as any in the Boise River region. All the trouble is, they are not a thousand miles away, in some woe-begone, poverty-stricken country, else there would be a "tremendous rush" and excitement.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—A little daughter, of W. A. Boiling, aged about seven years, fell into a tub of boiling water, at Blood's mill in Indian Valley, on Monday, the 14th, and was so severely burned that she only lived nine hours after it. She was a bright, beautiful little girl, and the anguish of the parents cannot be described, at meeting with such a terrible loss. Our sympathy is with them in this terrible affliction. The body will be taken to Marysville for interment.

NORTH FORK.—We learn from a letter received from a friend in that section, the following interesting items: Brewer & Co., who are working their river claim, are taking out one hundred ounces per week. Lent & Osborne, near them, for two days' work, each, cleaned up $300. Thompson & Co., near the Mouth of Mosquito Creek, have commenced sluicing. Hope "Hambrick" will strike it "big." Morris & Co., have one of the best claims in that section, and are taking out "lots of dust."

OUR CORRESPONDENT (who we hope will write often) thinks that this will be a better year for mining in that part of our county, than for several years previous; and that more money will be made by the miners.

SUIT ON BONDS.—A suit has been commenced in the Dist. Court, Butte county, against the Bondsmen of Tom Cox, who failed to appear at the Court of Sessions of that county last fall, to answer the indictment against him, found by the Grand Jury of this county, and transferred to that county for trial. The bond was for the sum of $2,000, and Messrs. Haun, Woodward, Miller, Ford and Deuster, sureties.

CUT OFF.—Since the Express changed routes, the Southern portion of our county is almost totally cut off from us, as regards communication, &c. Our friends in that section who wish to communicate with this paper, will please send their letters, &c., to Messrs. Myers & Ritchie, at Nelson Point, and they will forward them in due season.

SURPRISE VALLEY.—A party of gentlemen left this place on Wednesday last, for the purpose of going to Surprise Valley, with the intention of taking up ranches, and settling; provided they are suited with the country. We would advise persons going there, to keep a sharp look out for Indians, if they wish to preserve their own scalps.

MARRIAGE.—We last week chronicled the union of L. C. Stiles to Miss Anna Goumaz. This week we have to apologize for failing to notice the "fixin's" in the shape of wine, &c., with which the printers made merry. May the future of Mr. Stiles and his lovely bride, be free from clouds, is the wish of the printing fraternity, in which wish the editor joins.

CORRECTION.—Four feet that some of our readers will imagine that all the champagne and fixin's which was consumed at the "inauguration," was bought by the new officers, we will say, that almost every one present at the time, contributed for the purpose of the same. Is that satisfactory?

ACCIDENT.—On Saturday last, Mr. Ben. Coburn of the Coburn House in this town, was thrown from his horse, and broke his collar bone. Doc. Cate was called in, and set the fracture. In consequence, "Uncle Ben" is obliged to "lay by" for the present.

RAIN.—On Wednesday night it rained about half an hour, and the patter of the drops on the roof made sweet music. The next morning, the clouds had departed, and the weather was as warm as in July. It was a pleasant shower, and done some good, but not quite enough.

CHANGES.—A. J. Howe Esq., Att'y at Law, has taken an office in the Coburn House. A. J. Gifford Esq., has fitted up the building opposite the Coburn House, for a Law Office. J. R. Buckbee Esq., Dist. Att'y, occupies the Office in the Court House, opposite the Clerk's Office.

KILLED BY INDIANS.—One of the new settlers in Surprise Valley, formerly of Honey Lake, was killed by the Indians in that place, one day last week. The Indians are very troublesome, and say that the whites shall not settle in Surprise Valley, without losing some of their "top knots."

ROBACK'S STOMACH BITTERS.

IF YOU HAVE ANY symptoms of DYSPEPSIA, take them as freely, for as a Corrective they cannot be excelled. These BITTERS derive their stimulus from the powerful TONIC nature of ROOTS and HERBS, and are slightly aromatic, a quality highly beneficial in removing all symptoms of flatulency. If you would AVOID A DOCTOR'S BILL, keep Dr. Roback's Bitters constantly in your house. They are a delightful Stomachic and Cordial, and unequalled for giving tone to the stomach and the prevention of BILIOUS COMPLAINTS. DR. ROBACK'S BITTERS are sold Wholesale & Retail by Druggists and Liquor Dealers everywhere. REDDINGTON & CO., 418 and 418 Front Street, San Francisco, General Agents. 45-4m

The Medical and Surgical Institute of
Dr. L. J. CZAPKA, is already secured in a position which places it as well as the proprietor, far above the assaults of envy and professional malice. In the schools of France, the highest prizes are often awarded to practitioners in the department of Medical Science, and they occupy with others, an equally lofty position in the profession. Record in an illustrious example, a shining light among the philosophical stars of his age in Europe, and Dr. Czapka has fully equalled him in this country; as a proof of which, the Philadelphia College of Medicine complimented him with a Diploma, and the honorary academical degree. Selecting this as his field of operations, although qualified as a graduate of the University of Pech, and late Chief Surgeon of the Hungarian Revolutionary army, for more extended labors, Dr. L. J. Czapka has bent his earnest attention to the cure of chronic and private diseases, in which he has become so great an expert that he is now regarded as the master in this branch of his profession throughout the United States, and his portrait and biography are published as a matter of interest to their patrons in the most exclusive Journals. The Doctor's offices are at his Medical and Surgical Institute on Sacramento street, corner of Leidesdorff, nearly opposite the buildings of the Pacific Mail Steamship Co.

We ask particular attention of our readers to the sworn certificates of remarkable cures, in an entire collection of 24 pages.

The Quincy Union.

The following choice toast is said to have emanated from a soldier at Camp Union: "To Jeff Davis—May he be set adrift in an open boat, without rudder or oar; and may the boat and its contents be swallowed by a shark, the shark by a whale, the whale by the devil and the devil by hell, with the door locked and the key lost; and may Jeff be placed in the south-east corner with a north-west wind blowing ashes in his eyes to all eternity."

Very Cold.—The intensity of the cold at Milwaukee, on the 1st day of the present year, may be understood from the following account of it as written by a reporter of the Wisconsin newspaper: "We pen these hasty notes in a room containing two coal stoves heated red hot, and yet the windows are as opaque from the frost as if all boarded up, while we are obliged to keep a fur muffler over our ears and fur mittens on our hands. And yet we are by no means a cold-blooded individual by nature. It is useless to undertake to work under such adverse circumstances. The railroads are not in a working condition, the presses can hardly be worked, and there are no mails to give us any news. Before we freeze, therefore, we propose to abandon our chilling task."

Asses and Savans.—During the expedition to Egypt, Gen. Bonaparte sent a committee of scientific men to explore some sand-buried city; they were escorted by a military detachment commanded by Gen. Friant. Suddenly a troop of Arabs was discovered on the horizon advancing to attack the band. Gen. Friant instantly issued this order: "Attention, division! Form in hollow square! Asses and savans to the centre, march!"

CALIFORNIA RAISINS.—The Scientific American says that California raisins are a great novelty at the East. They are said to be equal to the best imported and can be sold at a lower figure. Very few have appeared in the Atlantic States, but in the course of time they will drive the foreign fruits from the market.

The young lady who burst into tears has been put together again, and now wears hoops to prevent a recurrence of the accident.
